

The Primavera sections Alessandri, Villa Cozza, Dall'Oca Bianca e Bottagisio

THE PRIMAVERA SECTIONS of the Municipality of Verona can offer a relevant answer to the needs of extra-parental care for children in their third year of life and aim to counteract the improper phenomenon of early entry into pre-school. They welcome children between the ages of twenty-four and thirty-six months and promote continuity in the educational path from zero to six years of age.

Children must be 24 months old between 1 January and 31 December of the reference school year and up to 36 months. For children who will be at the age of 24 months between 1 September and 31 December, admission to attendance is fixed at the age of two years, unless otherwise determined by regional agreements.

Their regular placement at the Kindergartens makes this service also an important laboratory to promote experiences of continuity between the two segments of the educational offer 0-3 and 3-6 and can become an educational environment to consolidate the collaborative work between educators, teachers, auxiliary staff, expression of the different professions present in the integrated system.

A typical day

The educational day is marked by routine moments, such as the welcome and morning circle, snack, lunch and reunion. Alongside these, there are opportunities for play in specialized spaces, laboratory activities, proposals directed by adults developing research topics of interest to children, and experiences of intersection on specific projects.

In the early afternoon, rest and relaxation is organized for children who feel the need.

The Pedagogical Project

The Primavera Sections follow a specific Pedagogical Project that aims to offer an educational and growth experience.

In line with this document, the educators of each school prepare each educational year a project of Section, which contains the operational, methodological and organizational choices designed to better accompany children in the discovery of themselves and the world, To build new skills in an original and active way and to start, together with peers, in processes of growth and development.

The project initiatives

The Primavera Sections are active in a wide variety of project initiatives:

- Routes that enhance play and spontaneous research, both indoors and outdoors;
- experiences and workshops that promote children's activism and span a variety of knowledge areas, the motor, manipulative and creative, artistic, musical, linguistic and narrative, theatrical, mathematical, scientific;

- Reading promotion routes;
- Special project themes;
- Itineraries of continuity agreed with the Nursery and Kindergarten School

The project activities also include educational outings which allow children to explore the natural and urban environment.
